NEXT GENERATION COOLING FOR DATA CENTERS

Bala's Chuck Kensky, PE, LEED AP was part of a panel of experts at Emerson's Data Center User's Group conference in Tampa, FL this past May. Our panel focused on cooling strategies to cool data center loads of the future. Chuck joined experts from Dell, Sun Microsystems, and Emerson Network Power on this topic. For more information on the conference visit www.datacenterug.org.

Our presentation is available for download in the Presentations section of our website.
